

Evolutionary NLP – The Healing Power of the Natural World

An Exploration of our Human Potential with International Trainer, Tom Best

April 21-22, 2012 in Austin, Texas

The Evolutionary NLP program is an ongoing exploration of the essential qualities of "Identity" and "Spirit", as we discover how our participation with the energetic structure of Spirit heals, restores and transforms the body-mind.

Tom and Bobbi Best have continued to refine and develop the structure of the Evolutionary NLP program for the past 12 years in workshops and retreats held in the US and several countries in Europe and eastern Europe, Peru and Hawaii. By modeling the wisdom of the Q'ero from the high Andes, they have been instrumental in bringing a unique and powerful tradition of energetic healing and balancing practices to the global community. During this journey, they have developed a deep appreciation that, although 'personality' may be a cultural artifact, Consciousness is not.

"Every living being in the universe has a relationship to service, which must be discovered and developed. All of the practices of the mystic are ways to heal our relationship to the cosmic forces and bring our lives into balance with the weavings of energies which are in all things."

- Americo Yabar, Peruvian Mystic

The primary emphasis in this 2012 chapter of our Evolutionary NLP exploration will be on working with the Healing Power of Nature ... particularly "the Work" with stones as taught by Americo Yabar and the Q'ero Indians of the high Andes.

Q'uyas, or Cuyas, are Power Stones for use in healing and therapy. Learning to transmit the energy, power and healing through stones is an important part of a shaman's training. There are many different q'uyas with as many different applications. Each q'uya is a stone with a certain feeling, one that has been charged with vital energy.

Our lives are an expression of this 'vital energy' in its many forms. From our physical body to the highest aspirations of our Spirit, the way we use our energy determines the quality of our lives. The Evolutionary NLP program, and particularly work with the stones, will take us into a profound exploration of the reality in which we create, expand, and manifest the energy of our body, mind and spirit. We will discover how Nature itself opens a field of new possibilities, allowing a graceful progression into restoration, balance, and wholeness.

Your Guide: Tom Best, with his wife Bobbi, currently co-directs Best Resources / Texas Institute of NLP, an NLP training and consulting company based in San Antonio, Texas. An International NLP Trainer for the last 27 years, Tom's background in cultural anthropology and Bobbi's study of esoteric spiritual disciplines has led them to investigate many of the connections between NLP, esoteric spiritual practices and traditional or 'native' cultural practices. Their work with traditional indigenous cultures, including the Q'ero of the high Andes in Peru, is the continuation of a crucial exploration of the human spirit initiated by the elders of every tribe of humanity before the dawn of civilization.
